

Sergio Gatti

Director Internal Audit

Born in Turin in 1972, he was appointed as Director Internal Audit of Eni on 12 October 2026.

Experience

He started his professional career at Coopers & Lybrand (later PwC), where he gained experience in external auditing and advisory services on internal control systems.

In 2001, he joined the Internal Audit function of Seat Pagine Gialle and subsequently Telecom Italia, where he participated in the project aimed at complying with the requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.

In 2006, he joined Eni's Internal Audit department, taking responsibility for the independent monitoring of financial reporting. In 2007, he was appointed as Head of Financial Audit.

In 2015, as Senior Vice President, he assumed responsibility for integrated audit activities relating to the administration, finance and control area, while also serving as Head of Internal Audit for several Group finance companies.

From 2019, he progressively expanded his scope of responsibility, including in the audit perimeter business support processes, innovation activities, Industrial Transformation and Sustainable Mobility businesses, as well as whistleblowing activities and spot audits.

He graduated in Economics and Business Administration and is registered as a Statutory Auditor.