

Enilive becomes Serie A Title sponsor with sponsorship agreement up until 2027

Rome, 5 February 2024 - Enilive, Eni's company dedicated to mobility products and services, will be the Title sponsor of Serie A starting from the 2024/25 championship and covering three seasons.

Through the partnership, Enilive will contribute to the world of football by introducing increasingly sustainable mobility solutions. Enilive is enthusiastic about the partnership with Lega Serie A, which will make the company and its new brand closer to all Italians, showing the transformation it represents for the millions of customers who regularly visit our extensive network of service stations.

Enilive, Eni's company dedicated to sustainable mobility, has a network of over 5,000 service stations across Europe, of which around 4,000 are located in Italy. Every day, they welcome more than 1.5 million people on the move, not only to refuel but also to enjoy a wide range of services. These include Eni Cafés, the largest chain of bars in Italy, ALT Stazione del Gusto, a new restaurant format developed in collaboration with Accademia Niko Romito, as well as facilities for paying postal slips and Emporium shops for convenience shopping.

Through its Enilive Stations, Enilive aims to gradually provide decarbonized services and products for the energy transition. A wide range of products is already available, including the HVolution biofuel (diesel produced from renewable raw materials), bio-LPG, biomethane, electric charging, and the Enjoy car sharing service, which is available in Milan, Rome, Turin, Florence, Bologna, and Padua. In addition, Enilive manages the production of biofuels for road, air, rail, and marine mobility from the bio-refineries in Venice, Gela, and the SBR bio-refinery in Louisiana, USA. Further development projects are in the pipeline, including the confirmed conversion of the Livorno refinery into a bio-refinery, as well as in Malaysia and South Korea, where new projects are being assessed.
