Plenitude publishes 2024 financial statements, Sustainability and Impact Report

Milan, 8 May 2025 – Today, Plenitude publishes its financial statements for 2024, as well as its Sustainability and Impact Reports.

For the 2024 financial year, Plenitude reported a proforma adjusted operating profit of €604 million and adjusted net profit of €311 million, up 17% and 41% respectively from 2023. The results are in line with the company's growth to over 4 GW of installed capacity in 2024, with more than 10 million retail customers and over 21,000 electric vehicle charging points.

The Sustainability Report and the Impact Report are both available online on the company's website as attachment to the financial statements. The report showcases the transformation process undertaken by Plenitude and the results achieved to serve as an enabler of the energy transition. In 2024, the company again confirmed its commitment to more socially, environmentally and economically sustainable development, strengthening and accelerating its growth path

Stefano Goberti, CEO of Plenitude, said: "Plenitude achieved solid financial results again this year, reaching over 1 billion euros EBITDA, accompanied by significant operational growth. We want to continue working with commitment according to Plenitude's distinctive business model, which combines investment in profitability with its sustainability goals: a winning synergy for the energy transition".

Plenitude, a company controlled by Eni, is active in more than 15 countries globally with a business model that integrates power generation from renewable sources, the sale of energy and energy solutions and an extensive network of electric vehicle charging points. By 2028, the company aims to reach over 11 million customers and 10 GW of renewable capacity.
