

Plenitude and Modine Sign an Agreement for the Construction of a New Photovoltaic Plant

Milan, 25 June – Plenitude and Modine, a global company founded in 1916 and specialized in thermal management systems and components, have signed an agreement for the construction of a new solar power plant in Pocenia (Udine). With an installed capacity of 1.585 MWp, the plant is expected to generate approximately 1.8 GWh of electricity annually and will contribute to powering an innovative system for the generation of thermal and cooling energy at Modine's facilities.

The project also includes the installation of high-efficiency, next-generation heat pumps and condensing boilers with a total capacity of 5 MW and 4,6 MW respectively. Thanks to a 10-year Energy Performance Contract (EPC) model, MODINE will be able to access renewable energy at a fixed cost without any upfront investment.

At Modine's sites in Pocenia (Udine) and San Vito al Tagliamento (Pordenone), Plenitude has already completed two other photovoltaic systems with capacities of 2.5 MWp and 1.183 MWp, respectively.

Plenitude, a company controlled by Eni, operates in over 15 countries worldwide with a business model that integrates the generation of more than 4 GW of renewable electricity, the sale of energy and energy solutions to 10 million customers and an extensive network of 21,500 electric vehicle charging points. By 2028, the company aims to reach 10 GW of renewable capacity globally.

Modine is a global company with over one hundred years of experience in developing heat exchange solutions for commercial, industrial and mobile systems.

Modine is deeply committed to sustainability, developing technologies that reduce energy and resource consumption, cut emissions and improve quality of life.

Guided by the motto "Engineering a Cleaner, Healthier World", Modine is a signatory of the United Nations Global Compact, reaffirming its commitment to ethical and responsible business practices.

For Modine, industrial development and sustainability go hand in hand, contributing to a cleaner and more conscious future.
